DETAILED ACTION

Claim 75 has been canceled. Claims 74, 79-82 and 84 have been amended. Claims 74 and 76-84 are pending and under consideration.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 74, 77, 78 and 79 are rejected under 102(b) as being anticipated by Karsten (Hybridoma, 1995, Vol. 14, pp. 37-44).

Claim 74 is drawn to a molecule comprising an amino acid sequence which contains SEQ ID NO:1 and SEQ ID NO:2 or 3 and SEQ ID NO:4, 5 or 6. Claim 75 embodies the molecule of claim 74 further comprising SEQ ID NO:7, 8 or 9; and 10, 11 and :SEQ ID NO:12 or 13. Claim 77 embodies the recognition molecule of claim 74 wherein the molecule comprises a combination of molecules found listed in the claim. Claim 78 is drawn to the recognition molecule of claim 74 wherein said molecule is an immunoglobulin of the IgG, IgM, IgA, IgE, IgD and/or subclasses et al. Claim 79 is drawn in part to a construct comprising the recognition molecule of claim 74 and (i) immunoglobulin or (xii) immunoeffectors..

Karsten et al disclose a monoclonal antibody which specifically binds both anomeric forms of the TF alpha and TF beta antigens, which is the same binding specificity as indicated in the instant specification on page 6, lines 16-18. The reference does not specifically teach that the antibody has the same hypervariable regions as the instant recognition molecules. However, the claimed molecules appear to be the same as the prior art antibody in terms of epitope binding absent a showing of unobvious differences. The Office does not have the facilities and resources to provide the factual evidence needed in order to establish that the product of the prior art does not possess the same material, structural and functional characteristics of the claimed product. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, the burden is on the applicant to prove that the claimed product is different from those taught by the prior art and to establish patentable differences. See

In re Best 562F.2d 1252, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1977) and Ex parte Gray 10 USPQ 2d 1922 (PTO Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1989).

Applicant argues that the rejection is faulty because the Karsten et al publication is not enabling because of a lack of a publicly available deposit. This has been considered but not found persuasive. Applicant has provided no reasoning why the method of Karsten et al would not reproducibly make the exact antibody as claimed. Further, it is unclear if Karsten et al have made the antibody publicly available via personal requests.

The rejection of claim 79 under 112, second paragraph, for reciting MHC class I or class II antigens is withdrawn due to applicant's arguments.

All other rejections and objections as set forth or maintained in the prior office action are withdrawn in light of applicant's amendments.

Claims 76 and 80-84 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
